South Coast Private is home to Wollongong Clinic, a set of private consulting suites for our psychiatrists and psychologists to meet with and treat patients. Located on Level 1 at South Coast Private, Wollongong Clinic brings a range of mental health specialties together under the one umbrella.

Our clinic offers comprehensive mental health services and treatments for General Psychiatry, PTSD, Veteran Services, Anxiety Management, Depression Management, Anger Management, Chronic Pain Management, Substance Withdrawal and Addiction Recovery programs.

ABOUT WOLLONGONG CLINIC

The Wollongong Clinic significantly improves conditions for psychiatrists to consult and treat their patients and it allows patients to meet with their psychiatrists and psychologists in a private and relaxed environment.

Fully owned by Evolution Healthcare, local psychiatrists have been closely involved in the planning and services at South Coast Private and continue to be involved in the operations of the facility. The South Coast Private Medical Advisory Committee (MAC) consists of highly experienced Illawarra based psychiatrists who meet regularly to facilitate the interaction between Evolution and interested mental health professionals.

Wollongong Clinic also gives our psychiatrists and psychologists the opportunity to better interact with each other and exchange ideas on patient treatment and mental health best practice.

HOW CAN I REFER A PATIENT?

A doctor's referral is needed before an appointment can be made to see a psychiatrist at Wollongong Clinic. The referral should outline the following details:

- Doctor's provider number, practice name and address
- Detailed description of the patient's condition/issues, current medication and any other relevant information to assist the consultant psychiatrist with the treatment
- Patient's phone contact details, so we can contact them directly to make an appointment.
